

MES PRIORITIES--HIGH

- NTHMP Maps use mapping standard guidelines by 2013
 - Standards developed, implementation in process
- Evacuation studies Guidance by 2014 (MMS)
- Education strategy by 2014
 - In process, Progress Report from NOAA Tsunami Program due to committee along with suggestions for next steps (by summer MES meeting?)
- Conduct evaluation of tsunami education products and programs in 10 communities by 2014
 - NOAA Tsunami Program to develop a tool for stakeholder use
- Develop a decision support tool (which?) addresses the characteristics of the population at risk by the end of 2015. (MMS)
 - HI, CA, PR, USGS, NOAA Tsunami Program (Rocky) (Cindy?)
 - PAR communities subject to tsunami, people who live, work, plays, commutes thru, tourists, vulnerable populations (ANYONE IN AN EVACUATION ZONE?)
 - Boundary of evacuation zone
- Conduct state-level reviews of all local response plans for accuracy and effectiveness by the end of 2014.
 - In process through local CEMP review
- Educational events in all at-risk communities by 2017

MES PRIORITIES-MEDIUM

- 50% of high-hazard states have K-12 curriculum or guidelines by 2017
- Create regional TsunamiReady advisory groups by 2017
- National Tsunami Preparedness Week annually
- Maintain/update products for tourist community
- Support maritime community stuff by 2017 (MMS)
- Update tsunami media tool kit annually
- Increase TR communities by 40 by 2017 (maintain existing communities)
- 50% of high hazard states/commonwealths/territories have tsunami workgroups by 2017

MES PRIORITIES-LOW

- Expand TsunamiReady supporter by 2017
- FEMA building codes by 2017 (MMS)
- 50% of high hazard partners have a media guidebook by 2017
- 100% of evacuation maps online by 2017
- Expand TsunamiReady supporter by 2017

MES PRIORITIES-ONGOING

- Guidance to NOAA on TsunamiReady Program

MES/MMS Joint Efforts

- Evacuation studies Guidance by 2014 (MMS)
- Support maritime community stuff by 2017 (MMS)
- Decision support tool for Populations at Risk (PAR) by 2014 (MMS)
- FEMA building codes by 2017 (MMS)